Boise and Owyhee.

FROM OUR TRAVELING CORRESPONDENT.

RUBY CITY, July 1st, 1865.

I must confess that this place wears a less active and crowded look than it did one year ago when I was here, which is accountable for, in part, by the fact that many men are at work that Silver City a half mile above, and a nearer point to the principal ledges, has become more built up and populous, while I must also add my own conviction that the number of people here on Jordan creek, and in what is known as the Owyhee mines, is less than it was one year ago. The truth is, that the placer mines on Jordan creek amounted to but very little. They were principally worked last year, and were not found to be very remunerative. Most of those who merely followed placer mining, have gone elsewhere. Many who thought quartz ledges could be taken up and sent immediately to market and sold for cash, have seen that the working of quartz is slow and laborious, except in its operation upon the brain—so they have also left here. There remains here a much less number, but full as much energy as one year ago. The development of the country is necessarily slow, but sure and satisfactory. All the mines that have been worked have shown rich ore, and most of them have proved of sufficient width, as well as quality to pay for working. The Morning Star mill is humming away day and night with excellent and continued success.

THE TOWNS ON JORDAN CREEK.

Boonsville, down the creek, looks dilapidated, and threatens when the placer mines about are exhausted to become a "deserted village." One year ago, it was busy with life and trade; to-day it appears dull and lifeless, and probably will have no occasion to improve. Ruby city has some improvements in progress, but remains much as it was last year. Here is the county seat, the stage offices and express offices will be here, and no doubt in time, it will grow to meet Silver City half-way, as it is scarce half a mile above it on the creek, and the two will make the principal town in Owyhee. Silver City has now the advantage in size, business and population, and probably the great point for trade will be in that vicinity, as the mills are going up at and above it. Jordan Creek forms a canyon with a high range on either side, for a long distance, finally joining with other creeks below, somewhere in the State of Oregon, I think, and forming in that State a beautiful valley, or beautiful for this country which will be settled and cultivated in time. The towns are all in the canyon, high in the mountains, and of course the town sites are not more level than other sites located in ravines, though a bench of the hill is generally found to build upon. One great feature in favor of this mining district, is the purity and excellence of its numerous springs, which are delicious as nectar to the traveler or prospector, and frequently tempt him to taste and appreciate. They have undoubtedly much to do with the good health which prevails, and I feel like paying an especial tribute of praise to them, for the good already received. Timber is not abundant, except for firewood, the mountain sides being in places covered with mountain mahogany and juniper, or mountain cedar, both of which are excellent for fuel. Timber for lumbering purposes is scarce, existing only in a few rough, stunted firs, scattered along the ravines, and sometimes in isolated groves that are found at the heads of the gulches. These groves will afford lumber for years to come, though not for the population and mills that will work here a generation from now. One saw mill is running at the head of Reynolds' creek, about seven miles from this place, and doing well.

A PROSPECTING TOUR.

Soon after my arrival, I found a party about to leave here for several days' prospecting through the quartz district to the south of here. Among them was a gentleman of extensive practical experience in silver mining, who has followed mining as a profession for a lifetime. I desired to travel in his company and make some use of his experience as a basis for understanding more satisfactorily the country south of Jordan Creek, and so be able to give a more reliable account of its quartz ledges and their valuable qualities. A ride of about ten miles over a mountain range, dividing Jordan Creek from Flint District, took us into the vicinity of a number of ledges, like those in this vicinity running through solid granite. Flint District has attracted considerable attention at times. Its ledges are well defined and of considerable width, specimens from which have assayed well. The great richness of the ledges upon this side, with the prevalence of gold in them, was more attractive than the plain silver found in Flint District, which is scarce more than one mile square, though containing quite a number of well defined ledges. In examining them it was apparent that the ledges so far as developed would be rich in silver with no predominance of base metals. My companion gave it as his opinion, based on long experience, that these ledges so far as silver is concerned promise to be permanent, of considerable size, and well worth developing. There is a moderate supply of timber and good water in this vicinity, which cannot be said of the region lying east of it, which we visited and found unpleasant enough beneath the burning sun. Mammoth District contains a monster ledge, evidently rich in silver and also possessed of base metals to such a degree that its practical working would be impossible in a country bare of timber. Steele District also presents the same appearance. Silver is shown to be in the ore in considerable quantities, but the base metals appear to have the predominance.

We had a three days jaunt over a country as rough as a horse would conveniently climb. We were destitute of cooking utensils, save a two quart pail we made coffee in, and for drinking cups we took possession of sundry oyster cans that we found by the way. Our bread became stale at length, and the last night we made an extra drive to reach a camp, where we knew of a frying pan. That night we luxuriated upon fried bread for a variety, and went to bed contented and happy.

I shall speak soon from personal inspection of the mines near here and of the progress made in working them. Owyhee rivals any mines that are known for richness, and I shall endeavor to give as particular, authentic and reliable information as I can obtain. There is not the excitement going on here that one finds in Boise Basin. Men there realize each day for their labor, and spend part of the proceeds, while here they live in hope and their motto is to "hold on and growl," confident that the good time is coming, and so it is.

A traveler stopping at a hotel exclaimed one morning to the waiter: "What are you about, you black rascal? You have roused me twice from my sleep, by telling me breakfast is ready, and now you are attempting to strip off the bed clothes." "Why," replied Pompey, "If you isn't gwine to git up, I must hab de sheet anyhow, cause dey're waitin' for de table-cloth."

James Gordon Bennett, of the Herald is over seventy years old. He leaves the management of his paper almost entirely to Mr. Hudson, who has been its editor for more than twenty years, and who may be found day and night at his desk living and thriving in an atmosphere of intense work.

The New York Evening Post says the Emperor Napoleon's Life of Julius Cæsar is scarcely published before it is followed in Paris, by a "Life of Napoleon III., by Julius Cæsar." It is reported that this work has for its motto the first sentence of Napoleon's famous preface: "Historic truth ought to be no less sacred than religion." French wits are asking whether the Emperor will venture to proscribe a book issued under the illustrious name of his hero.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 1[illegible], 186[illegible]

Is it Treason?

It may startle some honest minds [illegible] people who have been [illegible] to believe that our fundamental law defines treason and who have an utter abhorrence of this high[illegible] crimes [illegible] that the professed [illegible] southern [illegible] in th[illegible] treasonable organization and [illegible] who established it and threw the country into the fiery vortex of civil war in order to maintain it are not guilty traitors but gentlemen who [illegible] to receive the most tender consideration and [illegible] able treatment at the hands of the [illegible] they so malignantly tried to destroy. [illegible] this doctrine may well excite the most profound amazement, it is nevertheless held to be true by every Democrat among us. We are informed every day that Jefferson Davis has not committed treason and that to execute him now would be murder! The theory of State rights we are told fully justifies all that the rebels have done. Granted if this theory be true; but the people of the United States have emphatically said that it is false. It is worth while to observe here another proof that under this doctrine of State rights the Government could never stand. Under it the rebels justified secession, and now our few remaining "Democrats" assert that it sanctions rebellion. Copperheads thus show that their views entirely coincide with those of their rebellious friends. Can a person more conclusively manifest his approval of the rebellion than by averring that those who engaged in it are guilty of no crime? No better, but worse, than actual traitors are those who encourage treason by thus elevating it to the distinction of a virtue.

But it seems that Jefferson Davis is not to suffer, because he was merely an agent of the States which rebelled, and only executed their commands. This assumption that he and others were but "agents," is a falsehood fit to be put in the same category with those other untruths which speak the infamy of their Copperhead authors. Davis was not an "agent" of the States. He used them, or their people to aid him in his unlawful designs. He made the States his instruments—his "agents" in bringing war upon the Government. The Southern "Confederacy" did not create him and his compeers in treason: they created the Confederacy. They are not excusable because they obeyed their "Government," for that "Government" was a thing of their creating. Though they urged the South into rebellion and took the lead of their States in the effort to establish a new government, though they incited the States to withdraw from the Union—an act which would not have been done without their procurement—though they employed every art which duplicity could invent, and used every means which terrorists could bring to bear, to induce the people of the South to renounce their true allegiance, and though the late terrible struggle was brought on entirely by their instigation, we are now, forsooth, told that these men were merely the "agents of their States," that they, individually, have done no wrong, and ought to receive no punishment! Did unprincipled venality, in order to defraud justice, ever plead more falsely in extenuation of crimes which only the depraved can contemplate without the utmost abhorrence?

We are informed further, that as the States can not be tried for treason, or suffer punishment in their corporate capacity, the persons who were "their agents," are exempted from prosecution because their principals are beyond the reach of the law! That is to say, if a corporate body of any kind, should deem it advantageous to its interests to cause the life of an individual who stands in its way, to be taken, the several members of that corporation could not be punished for a crime that was perpetrated at the instance of that imaginary person which constitutes the body corporate. This is no ludicrous deduction from the doctrine enunciated. States or corporations cannot be punished as such, but in the case of crimes, the law disregards these artificial distinctions and fastens directly upon the guilty perpetrators of the deed.

In all rebellions it has been usual to punish the more conspicuous actors in the crime, and to pardon the more numerous body of common rebels not because of the innocence of the latter class but on account of the greater guilt of others and the impossibility of punishing all. A few notable examples are always held to suffice. Such are necessary, both for the vindication of justice and for protection against future insurrection. For these reasons, some of the guilty must be punished now. The rueful entreaties for mercy of [illegible] who would have guilt go unrebuked and [illegible] raised to the [illegible] of meritorious heroism, cannot cause lawful authority to loose its hold upon the greatest criminals of our times.

MORE INDIAN DEPREDATIONS.—The Indians in Baker county still continue as annoying as ever. Our informant furnishes us quite a full account of their depredations on Burnt river and in Powder river valley. Some of these we have already [illegible] of. Lately they have renewed their attacks on the inhabitants of that section. Traveling is said now to be really dangerous. On the night of the 5th a party of Indians attacked [illegible] about six miles from Express Ranch and badly wounding him with both gunshot and arrow, and drove off eight team mules and two pack trains, taking the property toward Willow Creek and Malheur river. The savages are daily seen on the surrounding hills, and the inhabitants are in constant fear for their lives. In Powder River valley there exists similar alarm. A miner whose name is not known was shot and killed a short time since on Shasta creek. Several other persons have been wounded. A great amount of stock has been driven off, and these predatory acts continue to be of daily occurrence.

A party of four miners, who went out in search of stolen property, had a brush with some Indians and killed one of them, recovering six animals. This occurred near the Express Ranch a few days ago. A party of sixty men met a large number of Indians near the same place shortly after, but after some fighting retired, the savages greatly outnumbering them. A company of seventy-five volunteers are organizing for service in that vicinity.

Mr W. P. Watson, who furnishes us this information, arrived here last evening from Idaho City, having left there last Saturday. We think this is about the shortest time in which the trip has been made. Mr W. came by way of Boise City. The stage hurried through in fear of being attacked by the Indians.

THE MISSOURI CONSTITUTION.—It was at first reported that the new Constitution of Missouri had been rejected by the people at the election held on the 6th of June, but later advices, it is said, leave no doubt of its adoption by a decided majority. The principal features of this new instrument are the disfranchisement of all who have aided or abetted rebellion, the immediate abolishment of slavery instead of gradual emancipation, and the extension to negroes of all civil rights except that of suffrage. If this Constitution has carried it will rid Missouri of the restless spirits who have been the cause of all the trouble and distresses which have visited that State.

STATE CONVENTION IN CALIFORNIA.—A State Union Convention is called to be held at Sacramento on the 16th of August to nominate a Supreme Court Judge, and elect a new State Central Committee.

NEW YORK, June 20.—The Buenos Ayres Standard says that the project to construct Valparaiso be rail along the west coast of South America to Panama, then via the United States meets with much favor in the countries interested. P. P. Goldsboro is civil engineer.

Foreign News.

The City of Boston from Liverpool June 14th and Queenstown June 15th has arrived. The Niagara arrived at Southampton the 12th exchanging salutes with a British frigate. She would probably dock and [illegible]. The Sacramento arrived the next day.

The English armor plated fleet on the invitation of Napoleon is to make a tour around the French coast. The French armor plated fleet is to do the same around England. The combined fleet will be at Plymouth in the middle of July.

Lord Brougham in a speech at a banquet given to the Prince of Wales at Fishmongers' Hall earnestly calls on the American Government to [illegible] their victory in mercy as well as in justice and stain the scaffold with the blood of those who they so recently treated as warriors.

In the House of Lords the Earl of Derby called attention to Russell's letter withdrawing belligerent rights from the Confederates before the Federal Government had chosen to exercise these rights, and to Johnson's proclamation denouncing the penalties of piracy against vessels visiting international ports. He protested against such proceedings and asserted the vessels could only be regarded as smugglers. He hoped the prisoners in the Federal hands would be treated as vanquished not disgraced enemies.

Russell explained the withdrawal of belligerent rights. He said he had sought an explanation of Johnson's extraordinary threat of treating the vessels as pirates but could get none. In his opinion the threat was merely in terrorem.

In the House of Commons, Layard said several representations had been made to the Federal Government to obtain compensation for the shooting of Grey by Lieutenant Delousan, (?) of the United States Navy off the Cape of Good Hope but they positively decline to make any compensation. Parliament then adjourned to meet on the 10th of July.

The morning Post says the negotiations between England and Canada, are about to be satisfactorily concluded. Canada is expected to undertake the whole of the western defences. It will be defended by an efficient military force. The Imperial government will furnish the entire necessary armament and guarantee a loan to construct an interior railroad.

The [illegible] of June 13th publishes a circular from the Minister of Marine, dated June 5th, closing French ports to Confederate vessels.

Mrs Lincoln sent a reply to the Empress Eugenie's letter of condolence.

It is stated that the Emperor of Austria agrees to reinstate Maximilian in all his rights, in the event of his return from Mexico.

Spain has rescinded the belligerent rights extended to the Confederates by a decree dated June 4th.

A conspiracy against the government at Valencia had been discovered and thwarted.

An Agent of Juarez had arrived at Turin to attempt to enlist Garribaldi, officers and men, for Juarez.

The Herald has a translation of a debate in the French Corps Legislatif June 8th on the Mexican question. Jules Favre, leader of the Republican party, said the expedition was undertaken to recover a recognized claim of about a million, with an eventual claim which might vary from five to twelve millions and they had already incurred the expense of four hundred millions. It had been promised that the French troops would protect Mexican parties in the full exercise of their opinions. This had not been done. Favre cited a case where French troops burned a town of four hundred inhabitants. He declared that to attain the object they had in view would take forty thousand men ten years, at an expense of six hundred millions. The debate was very fiery and exciting. The speaker was frequently interrupted. He declared Maximilian's Empire would fall to pieces as soon as the French troops were withdrawn. He denounced the scheme of a Mexican loan.

PORT AU PARQUE, N. F., June 25.—The Dc[illegible], with dates from Liverpool to the 15th and from Londonderry to the 16th, passed here to-day. From Quebec the news is meagre. Official correspondence between the British and American Governments on the assassination of President Lincoln is published. Earl Russell's letter conveys sincere expressions of regret on behalf of the Queen, Parliament and the people. Acting Secretary Hunter expresses lively feelings of satisfaction and a grateful remembrance with which the Government and people of America receive such emphatic and earnest manner of friendship and sympathy from a great and kindred nation. The [illegible] publishes a letter from a well known correspondent. The burden of his letter is that the North has no right to treat the vanquished rebels as anything else but men, whom they have fairly beaten in battle. He writes strongly and urges the policy of mercy. In the House of Commons on the 14th, a bill providing for the abolition of tests required of applicants for the degree of M. A. at Oxford University was debated and passed to the second reading, [illegible] to 190. This is expected to be the last important division of the present Parliament.

San Francisco, July 1[illegible] The [illegible] arrived this morning having left [illegible] with 120 packages of [illegible] chandise and 130 passengers.

RUSSIAN TELEGRAPH EXPEDITION.—The expedition under command of Col. [illegible] Bulkley which has been several months fitting out in this city for the purpose of exploring a route for and building the telegraph which will bind together Europe and America by an electric chain, is now about ready to start on its important mission to the frozen regions of the North. Although the company have remained in San Francisco for a considerable length of time, they have been far from being idle. The preparations necessary for taking such a large expedition through comparatively unknown seas upon whose broad bosom floats [illegible] icebergs [illegible] lands barren, inhospitable and habited [illegible] covered with eternal [illegible] compared with those required [illegible] by the usual route across the Atlantic [illegible] Sailing charts, and maps of all the coast North of this city on the American, and of the Amoor river on the Asiatic side have been required to be compiled especially for this enterprise from the very best geographical authorities, and also of all the interior districts of country North of those two points. Upon these a competent corps of draughtsmen have been employed for months. The completion of one map alone requiring the constant labor and attention of two men for ten consecutive weeks. It has been necessary to purchase vessels and fit them out with a view to the wants of the company during their expected long absence in the Siberian regions.

All the maps and charts however are now about prepared, the vessels are ready and all arrangements made for a speedy departure. It is expected that early in the coming week a portion of the company will sail on the Russian ship Olga, the remainder under Colonel Bulkley the commander of the expedition following in a few days on the propeller Wright, a vessel purchased for this voyage. The first party will be under the command of Count Abasa, a Russian gentleman sent out by the Russian Government especially for this purpose, and will proceed to the mouth of the Amoor river, from which place as a base exploring tours will be made through portions of Siberia. The latter party under Col Bulkley will proceed first to Kamschatka and from thence along the coast of the Behring and Ochotsk seas occasional exploring parties will be sent into the interior, as may seem fit. As the majority of the members of these parties are residents of San Francisco their course will be watched with peculiar interest by the people of this city but not alone, as its object is in a manner to subdue the broad space which separates the European and American continents and is therefore of interest to the civilized world. "Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war" and the establishment of telegraphic communication between New York and St. Petersburg will be one of her greatest and proudest triumphs—an achievement worthy of the enlightened age in which we live.—S. F. Flag.

JEFF DAVIS IN IRONS.—The story that Jeff. Davis had been placed in irons for misbehavior was not very generally credited and indeed was flatly contradicted by more than one correspondent of the press. We have now a full confirmation of the statement from an officer direct from the Fortress. This gentleman asserts that, soon after being confined in the casemate, Jeff became intractable, and began to storm around the apartment, abusing the guard, and [illegible] the Government authorities, and asserting that no Major General had a right to consign him to such quarters. On one occasion he threw his rations at the head of the attendant who brought them to him. The shackles were therefore applied to him, partly as a punishment and partly as a precautionary measure.

The announcement that the ex Confederate President is to be tried before a civil tribunal, is not received with favor except by the secessionists and their sympathizers, and the very few persons in the loyal ranks who deprecate the infliction of capital punishment upon any of the leaders of the rebellion. Parties well informed as to the elements of society in Washington, assert that it will be impossible to impannel a jury in that city that will not embrace one or more secessionists, as this sort of material is very plentiful there and is, moreover, of the very kind that will pass the most easily into the jury box. There is probably not a single resident in Washington who can say truthfully that he has formed no opinion as to the guilt or innocence of Jeff Davis. All conscientious men therefore will probably be excluded from the jury, while the unscrupulous, the sympathizers with Davis's treason or with his person, will just as probably be included. For [illegible] measures will not stand in their way at all. Should Davis therefore escape the punishment due to his great crimes through any such arrangement of the jury, as is before indicated, all loyal people will regret the policy which determined the Government to place the culprit before a civil instead of a military tribunal.—Cin. Bulletin.

AN EXCELLENT ARRANGEMENT.—The renegade Irishman John Mitchell, one of the editors of the Richmond Enquirer during the rebellion, has gone to New York and taken charge of the editorial department of the Daily News of that city. The great champion of the Democracy is still endeavoring to serve his party. Schooled in the rebellion for four years he will now make a first rate Democratic editor. His disciples may be congratulated on having secured the personal services of so eminent an advocate.

GENERAL GRANT AT WEST POINT.—[illegible] who was old [illegible] at West Point [illegible] when he was a pupil there:

Of General Grant as a pupil I have a recollection [illegible] [illegible] picture [illegible] and [illegible] story [illegible] characteristic of the Western people [illegible] attention [illegible] as a student [illegible] what is not generally known [illegible] army [illegible] little studied, being what is termed [illegible] the Military Academy [illegible] [illegible]

A Mobile clergyman went to General Granger and asked him if he proposed to compel the rebel clergy to pray for the President of the United States. "Compel? you!" was the reply. "If your prayers don't amount to more for the President of the United States than they have for Jeff. Davis, it makes but little difference whether you pray for him or not!"

Gen Dick Taylor's Louisiana plantation near New Orleans, which had been confiscated, was sold a short time since for $9,000. It comprises 2,500 acres, with all the improvements, sugar house, mills, engines, dwellings, etc.

The editor of the Atlanta Intelligencer estimates that there are 800,000 bales of cotton in Georgia. Large quantities of the staple are coming to sight in Montgomery, Alabama.

Capt. Pickerson, military store keeper at Fort Vancouver has been appointed Captain and Assistant Quartermaster in the regular army.

[illegible] FIRE.—Yesterday morning [illegible] clock fire was set in a building [illegible] and Main streets, and in so [illegible] short space of time [illegible] together with [illegible] and all the contents [illegible] smouldering embers. The property was [illegible] J. R. Marble, and his loss is estimated at [illegible] whatever. The fire [illegible] after the alarm was given [illegible] enveloped in the flames [illegible] and despite the untiring efforts of the Fire [illegible] Columbian Engine Co. No. [illegible] the pail of hose by throwing the first water [illegible] from the Salmon and First street cistern. Through the [illegible] of the Department [illegible] As from [illegible] The building in which the fire [illegible] was a frame tenement [illegible] from the opposite side of the street [illegible] fitted up as a furnishing shop [illegible] the minds of the people [illegible] the inside in the lining on the wall, which had [illegible] no clue. The blacksmith shop was a two story frame [illegible] contents there was nothing removed except one [illegible] wheel belonging to a freight wagon, which was [illegible] off and housed. Another small frame north [illegible] of the fire, which was used as a carriage [illegible] was badly charred, the carriages however [illegible] On the [illegible] opposite side of the street the [illegible] of Mr. Ash and Mr. [illegible] badly scorched [illegible] The loss comes [illegible] upon Mr. Marble [illegible] able to sustain it, but we understand he [illegible] lation to immediately erect another building.

[illegible] NOT MEMBERS.—We should not again refer to the [illegible] of the attempted arson on Saturday night last [illegible] arraigned have been discharged from [illegible] but as exceptions have been made to our [illegible] and we have been requested by the Foreman [illegible] No. 4 to disabuse public sentiment in reference [illegible] we are compelled to again refer to the [illegible] In accordance with the denial that the young men [illegible] were members [illegible] Company, we are informed [illegible] Chief Engineer that their names do not appear on [illegible] We do not see any opportunity [illegible] however, on the point that the saturated rags [illegible] at the place where the fire was set corresponded [illegible] rags in the locker at the Engine House, and also [illegible] was the resort of those men. We respect [illegible] Department, and realize the worth of such [illegible] but we are not an apologist for the acts of [illegible] frequenters of the Houses when they take [illegible] and it would be well in order to prevent [illegible] implications, for the companies to exercise [illegible] for a better order of things. We are aware that a [illegible] of the members of No. 4 condemn the act as [illegible] as we do, and favor the resignation of some of [illegible] members whose acts have not been above suspicion.

[illegible] STATES DISTRICT COURT.—In the case of the [illegible] vs. Budge—action to recover duties [illegible] sustained the demurrer to the answer of the [illegible] yesterday. In so doing the Court decided that [illegible] lation of goods was consummated when they [illegible] within the limits of a port of entry within [illegible] to be unladen, and that then they became liable [illegible] duty according to the law then in force [illegible] of entry for consumption. That duties [illegible] and that a note given to the Collector is not [illegible] of duties in any sense. The officers of the [illegible] cannot bind the United States contrary to [illegible] that a party is ready and willing to [illegible] without the further averment of [illegible] and also bringing the money into Court, is [illegible] plea of tender. In the case of the U. S. [illegible] indictment for perjury in making affidavit to [illegible] the defendant was arraigned and [illegible] to the indictment. The demurrer was [illegible] great length, and will be decided by the Court [illegible]

[illegible] YORK AND OWYHEE GOLD AND SILVER MINING [illegible]—Mr. G. Letter from South Boise

ROCKY BAR, ALTURAS Co., I. T.,
June 24, 1865.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

A brief review of this quartz mining camp may [illegible] interesting to many [illegible] distance from Boise City [illegible] now travel [illegible] the [illegible] about [illegible] miles but it can be made [illegible] good [illegible] Rocky Bar the [illegible] on Bear [illegible] [illegible] mile and a quarter long [illegible] while [illegible] called [illegible] of a few [illegible] Rocky Bar is built about three hundred yards wide and contains at this season about six hundred inches of water most of which [illegible] the water power machinery. The hills on either side are steep and [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] tunnels [illegible] strike the rich gold and silver bearing quartz [illegible] tunnels and shafts as are being worked [illegible] the quartz [illegible] from whence it is taken [illegible] teams and packed [illegible] to the various quartz mills and arrastras [illegible] crushed. Of the latter about fifteen are in operation of which all are said to be doing well. Also two steam mills [illegible] Mining Company's mills of twelve stamps crush sixty tons of rock per week from which their gross receipts are from $6,000 to $8,000 a week, and [illegible] they take out as high as [illegible] $16,000. From the Confederate Star they crush about fifty tons a week, and their [illegible] about $2,000 to $4,000, but the same remarks as regards the receipts and returns of the Idaho Company are also applicable here.

The number of inhabitants of Rocky Bar and vicinity may be estimated at nearly seven hundred. There are seven stores and equal number of saloons, three bakeries, six restaurants, one lodging house, [illegible] and jewelers office, two barber shops, two meat markets, &c., &c. Flour early this spring was sold in small quantities at [illegible] per pound, and is at this date sought for at $60 per hundred and a "nary" sack in market. The denizens of this place are anxiously looking for pack trains which are hourly expected.

The only sickness that has been noticed here is a very malignant form of what is commonly called "mountain fever," which has proved very fatal to those attacked. Only very few and those who have taken early remedies and advice, have survived.

Up the hill and down the hill, and in the hollow for two and a half miles in a south west direction is the town site of Marietta, on the Red Warrior creek.

The New York and Idaho Gold and Silver Mining Company, Dr. S. B. Farnham Superintendent, and the Victor Gold and Silver Mining Company, Capt. Nelson Superintendent, are employing about 60 or 100 hands—getting out rock from their ledges by shafts and tunnels—squaring timbers, sawing lumber, building houses, making roads, &c., for those companies. The Doctor and Captain are now below at Boise City, and I learn that the families of these gentlemen are en route for this place. The mills for the above companies are now on this side of Boise City and will soon be here. The principal ledges owned by these companies, are the Richmond and Union by the former, and the Golden Eagle by the latter, and judging from the energy and business tact displayed by the Superintendents, we may expect by early fall to learn good results from these mills. The lodes are on the hills around Beaver creek and its tributaries. Their number is legion, and new discoveries are being made every few days. The most prominent is the Idaho, which a few months since could have been bought for three drinks of tanglefoot, will, now that it has been developed, readily bring $100 per foot, and is held at from $400 to $500 a foot or share. There are many other ledges that prospect as well, and as fairly developed, in some instances better. They are owned by poor men who have not the means to go on and develop them, and only await an opportunity of disposing of the whole or part of their interests to capitalists at a fair price. Among the most prominent ledges, we may mention the following: The Alturas King Bee, Bay State, Lafayette, Masonic, Old Ophir, Florida, and Dunona. The greater portion of the lodes of this and adjoining camps, are gold bearing, and with but few silver bearing lodes.

Yuba river district, about 15 miles from here comprises both river, bar and quartz claims, which for size and richness of ledges, eclipses any thing ever yet discovered. The water powers and privileges are unsurpassed, and the hills, unlike this camp, which is destitute of grass, are covered with the finest bunch grass. I can now only mention a few of the ledges of that camp. The Atalanta, John Duscombe, Jessie Benton, Eclipse, Grey Eagle, Willamette, Ed Walls, Blue Nose, Silver Tide, Sunbeam, Challenge, Gaylord and Henrietta, are among the most prominent.

STEAM COMMUNICATION WITH CHINA.—The establishment of a line of steam vessels between San Francisco and China is a work which will prove of incalculable benefit to the Pacific coast. It will open a new channel for the commerce of the most populous portions of the globe. This enterprise, taken in connection with the Pacific Railroad, will put the United States in a new position in relation to the immense opulence of Asia. The New York Shipping List thus alludes to this new movement:

The projected line from San Francisco to China—touching at the Sandwich Islands—has long been urged by our friends on the Pacific coast, and at last their demands are to be complied with. The population of the Chinese Empire is estimated at the enormous sum of 450,000,000, while Japan has 60,000,000 more—the two countries comprising about half the population of the globe. From San Francisco to China, the distance is scarcely 6,000 miles, while to Japan the distance is only 4,700 miles—making them nearer and more accessible to us than the European nations. The distance from London to Hongkong, by water, is 15,000 miles, and by the Isthmus 12,000 miles, so that New York would be 3,000 miles nearer to Hongkong via San Francisco overland than is England by the Suez route. Steam will bring Hongkong and New York nearer together than New York and the European nations were thirty years ago. That the project of bringing the populous Oriental countries in direct and quick communication with the United States will prove to be a highly successful enterprise there is no manner of doubt. That it will tend greatly to the prosperity of the city of San Francisco in particular, which will be the grand entrepot of that commerce between the two countries is equally certain, and we congratulate our friends there on having finally accomplished their purpose of uniting America and China by steam.

And now that we have emerged from our civil war stronger and richer in developed resources than ever, and are but just about commencing a career of what promises to be an unrivaled prosperity, and while we have so much to gain, in the matter of steam navigation, let us bear constantly in mind that England's remarkable growth in commerce is due, to a very great extent, to two important facts, to wit: that she has far outstripped every other nation in the yearly additions to her steam fleet, and that the expensive paddle wheel steamers are practically superseded by screw vessels. If we have been slow to recognize the advantages of screw steamers over others, we have paid dearly for it. Let us learn wisdom by experience and hasten to retrace our steps.

ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE, and all the people merely players, and we surmise that a large portion of the players thereon, must be using that justly popular preparation for the teeth, "Fragrant Sozodont," from the immense demand there is for that article. Well it only proves that we are becoming wiser and wiser every day, for it truly merits all that is said in its favor, the most delightful, convenient and efficacious beautifier and preserver of the teeth the world ever produced.

INDIAN TROUBLES ON THE PLAINS.—The Salt Lake Telegraph of the 7th inst., has the following in relation to the Indian difficulties which [illegible] communication with [illegible] By the politeness of [illegible] we are present [illegible] following [illegible] The stage [illegible] which left Denver on the [illegible] of June [illegible] after arriving at Rock creek, they turned back a [illegible] hearing that the Indians had attacked that station and were then in pursuit of Mr. Comstock. Lieut. Doyle then [illegible] returned from Casper's creek the stage proceeded to Rock creek found that station was safe, but a soldier killed. The Indians then proceeded to a store, two miles this side of Rock creek, stole the stock, and retreated back to the hills. On the stage arriving at a canyon between Rock Hound and McLemo Bow they met a party of Indians who had just attacked a train stole the stock and killed one man. They stopped the stage, the passengers [illegible] and in chasing them up the canyon mistook a party of emigrants who were also in pursuit of Indians, but discovered the mistake in time. The stage on arriving at Fort Halleck [illegible] that during the day the Indians had also killed an emigrant and wounded two others. On returning to the store this side of Rock creek, they found the Indians had burned the store, and were burning and destroying a number of wagons as they and out off from the passing train. The Indians some three hundred strong then retreated into the hills back of the store, and awaited an attack from sixty soldiers to [illegible] with the stage and some two hundred emigrants, but considering the Indians too strong they put back to Fort Halleck. Up to July 3d the stage that should have left [illegible] over [illegible] not arrived and it was believed that they had met the same party of Indians, and returned to Denver.

The Denver News of the 26th ult. says: Bands of Indians are prowling about the road from Fort Halleck to Sulphur springs. Fifteen head of stage stock were driven off at Elk Mountain on the 22d ult. The Overland Stage Company had eighty seven head of stock stolen between Cherokee and Sulphur Springs Stations, while the stock of the company at four stations had all been taken. Mr. Kershaw and Dutch Fred had eighty head of stock stolen at Rock creek. At Cooper creek the Indians attacked the station but were repulsed by the employees, carrying off [illegible] eight head of cattle. Fears were entertained of the massacre or capture of three companies of soldiers who left Sulphur springs and Fort Halleck on the 11th ult., per order of General Connor for a three days march, they not having been heard from to the 24th.

The stages were to run tri-weekly while there was any stock left to do so, and the road between Fort Halleck and Sulphur Springs would be carried by soldiers. There were unbelieved rumors of Friday's band having destroyed the stock at Cache la Poudre.

The operator at Sweetwater Bridge reports that there was so much wire taken away by the Indians as to make it necessary to send to Fort Laramie for a supply—and which left Laramie on Monday last. A regiment of cavalry is reported to have started at the same time for service on the telegraph line. They will repair the line, which should be in working order to morrow.

PROFITING BY THE REACTION.—San Francisco by her utterly selfish and short sighted policy, in neglecting or abusing the interior of this State, has made her merchants and money changers rich. At last the reaction is coming. Portland and Victoria are beginning to do their own importing from the East. They are cutting off San Francisco from the northern trade. Very soon Guaymas will do the same for her on the South, and then she will be thrown back upon California and Nevada, both of whom she has treated as a step mother.—St. Joaquin Independent.

WISTAR'S BALSAM

—OF—

WILD CHERRY!

HAS BEEN USED FOR NEARLY

HALF A CENTURY,

WITH THE MOST ASTONISHING SUCCESS IN CURING

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, and every affection of the

THROAT, LUNGS, AND CHEST,

INCLUDING EVEN

CONSUMPTION.

There is scarcely one individual in the community who wholly escapes, during a season, from some one, however slightly developed, of the above symptoms—a neglect of which might lead to the last named, and most to be dreaded disease in the whole catalogue. The power of "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints is well known; so great is the good it has performed, and so great the popularity it has acquired.

In this preparation, besides the virtues of the Cherry, there are commingled with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its value ten fold, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve, and to cure disease, exists in no other medicine yet discovered.

The unequalled success that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of

has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, some of whom advise us of the fact under their own signatures. We have space only for the names of a few of these:—

S. H. FINLEY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal.
E. BOYDEN, M. D., Exeter, Me.
ALEXANDER HATCH, M. D., China, Me.
R. FELLOWS, M. D., Hill, N. H.

W. B. LYNCH, M. D., Auburn, N. Y.
ABRAHAM SKILLMAN, M. D., Boundbrook, N. J.
H. D. MARTIN, M. D., Mansfield, Pa.

The proprietors have letters from all classes of our fellow citizens, from the halls of Congress to the humblest cottage, and even from beyond the seas; for the fame and virtue of WISTAR'S BALSAM have extended to the uttermost bounds of the earth, without any attempt on our part to introduce it beyond the limits of our own country.

TO CALIFORNIANS AND OREGONIANS.

After October 1, 1863, all genuine WISTAR'S BALSAM of WILD CHERRY for the Pacific Coast will be enclosed in a new wrapper which will bear the printed names of both SETH W. FOWLE & Co., Boston, Mass., and JOHN D. PARK, Cincinnati, Ohio, as well as fac simile of the signatures of "I. BUTTS," "SANFORD & PARK" and "H. WISTAR, M. D."

The Last Scratch Plot

Notwithstanding the collapse of the rebellion, the rebel agents in Canada are as busy as ever in concocting hostile projects against the country. Having lost their homes and reputation by their [illegible] and [illegible] conduct, they are impelled by fiendish malice to inflict all the injury they can on the people of the North. They care not a jot whether their blows fall upon the strong or the weak, upon the Government and those who have been in arms against them or on non combatants and helpless women and children.

One of the schemes they are now preparing to execute involves the destruction of Croton Dam at Yorktown, Winchester county. Upon this structure, it is well known the city is dependent for water, and if destroyed it would cost millions of dollars and months of labor to replace it. In the meantime the city would be without water, for the receiving and distributing reservoirs and aqueduct combined never contain more than a supply for a few days. Therefore the agents are [illegible] that the destruction of that noble structure would be one of the severest blows that could be inflicted on the people of this metropolis. They aver that not only would the most prominent and important factories and shops be obliged for want of steam, etc., to suspend operations, but that indescribable misery would fall upon the people at large. Fire engines, they believe would be useless, and in a short time the whole city would become a prey to a grand conflagration, without the aid of Kennedy or other incendiaries.

At [illegible] an engineer was sent from Montreal to inspect the grand structure and devise a plan for its destruction. He examined the work thoroughly, took notes of its dimensions, style of construction, etc., and reported that it would be the easiest thing in the world to blow it to atoms. It is to be effected by means of small torpedoes to be placed on the inside of the dam against the masonry, together with one or two in the gate for the discharge of the surplus water, and exploded simultaneously. The dam, it is reported, contains upward of 500,000,000 gallons of water, the pressure of which against so narrow a structure must be very great, so that the engineer [illegible] in the scheme is confident that one half of the [illegible] he proposes to employ would do the work effectually; but it is intended to make "sure of it." Arrangements have been made to send the powder or torpedoes, nicely packed in flour barrels, from Montreal to this city, and from here to Sing Sing, whence they are to be conveyed in a farmer's wagon, on an appointed evening, to a point above the dam, ready to be carried in the dead of night and [illegible] in their proper places.

In 1848, when the dam was about half finished, it was carried away by the great pressure of the [illegible] water against it, and swept away all the bridges, factories and rolling mills on the stream below. Its destruction at this time would inflict on [illegible] manufacturers and farmers between it and the Hudson, ten times the amount of the damage caused by the break at that time, and the loss of life would be very great.

To prevent the city being benefited by the water flowing through the aqueduct after the blowing up of the dam, it is intended to destroy the [illegible] itself at some point near the city. The [illegible] who examined the dam and formed the plan for its destruction also inspected High Bridge, which he believes may be easily broken. But [illegible] the [illegible] would be made at that point or still nearer the city, had not, up to my last interview with the conspirators, been decided. With the [illegible] they have enlisted in the enterprise, they can, if not closely watched, break the aqueduct at a dozen points between the city and Yonkers.

But their scheme, as at first proposed, was intended to go much further. It was designed to poison such water as might be left in the reservoirs, by casting arsenic, strychnine and other poisons into the aqueduct below the break to be made, and in the reservoirs themselves. With this view the capacity of the reservoirs was ascertained, and a calculation was made by an expert [illegible] of the amount of poisonous matter [illegible] all the water and render an [illegible] deadly. The necessary quantity was [illegible], and the cost of it, at wholesale [illegible] but the quantity and cost were found to be so large, and the difficulty [illegible] without exciting suspicion was [illegible] great that this part of the project [illegible]. The plan was suggested by Dr. Blackburn, and the [illegible] made by him. [illegible] to use their own words, with drinking a glass of water as expensive in New York as ever a glass of whisky was in Richmond."—New York Tribune, June 5th

Is Gen. Lee Subject to Trial for Treason?—The rumor gains strength that the rebel General Robert E. Lee, is to be indicted and tried for treason. Whether it was or was not the purpose of the President at the beginning to subject him to such trial, that course has been almost a necessity by reason of the arguments of Lee's friends and sympathizers in the North. The latter having roundly abused the government in anticipation of its purpose to subject the rebel military chief to civil trial, basing its abuse upon the presumption that the terms of his surrender exempted him from all further interference, civil as well as military, it becomes quite indispensable that the issue shall be met, and that Lee shall be tried for treason, if only to establish the fact that a military parole does not screen a culprit from prosecution under the civil law which he has violated. Readers of the Bulletin already know the argument on which it is sought to relieve absolutely from liability to the law Gen. Lee and all the rebel soldiers who surrendered under the terms accorded to them by General Grant. One of those terms was that they were to return to their homes on parole, and remain unmolested so long as they should obey the laws. This is interpreted as an agreement that they are to remain "unmolested" by the civil authorities, as well as by the military—that, in fact, Gen. Grant had accorded to them the benefits of a general amnesty. The opponents of this claim urge that Grant's agreement was only intended to relieve the surrendering rebels from molestation by military authority. Further than that he had no authority to go. Gen. Lee and those who claim his right to immunity from civil proceedings, know perfectly well that if Gen. Grant had undertaken to relieve them from civil penalties and disabilities his act would have been null and void. The power of amnesty and pardon is vested by the Constitution in the President only. He can neither delegate or transfer that power to another, any more than he can delegate the veto power. He must exercise the pardoning power personally or not at all. Does any one suppose that Gen. Grant would have made a valid agreement with Lee releasing the property of the latter from liability to confiscation? Certainly not, yet his power in such a case would be quite as perfect as his power to relieve from any other penalty for the treasonable bearing of arms against the Government.

General Grant intended and attempted to exercise only military powers and no one knew that better than Gen. Lee. It the latter cannot profess to have been betrayed by a surprise. His surrender was dictated by military considerations. The [illegible] must have [illegible] of [illegible] hopeless and military necessity compelled the rebel leader to a military [illegible]. That he knew that the agreement [illegible] which that surrender was based could do no more than [illegible] and his men from their [illegible] citizens, he would have taken care that such purpose was clearly expressed. The surrender was purely a military act made necessary by the [illegible] condition of affairs, and stipulations [illegible] carrying the effect of a pardon for the past could have no more force than if entered into by the humblest private citizen.

Besides, Gen. Grant was acting under a distinct notification from the Secretary of War that the President [illegible] to have no conference with Gen. Lee except [illegible] purely military matter and [illegible] confer upon any political question. Such questions the President holds in his own hands and will submit them to no military [illegible] conventions.

The [illegible] evidently with this in [illegible] in his [illegible] Gen. Lee in the correspondence preliminary to the surrender that he had no authority to treat on the subject of peace. The terms accorded to Lee were intended to have military force only. They perfectly shield them as prisoners of war, but not at all as traitors.—Cal. Bulletin

Public Revenues and Expenses.—It is estimated that under present revenue laws the revenues of the United States for the year ending June 30, 1866, will amount to $390,000,000. The total expenses, including interest on the public debt, are estimated at $302,000,000. The New York [illegible], in view of these facts, says that [illegible] and argues that [illegible] we shall reduce the scale of taxation and keep it low till the productive powers of the country are fully restored [illegible] rather than to push immediately upon [illegible]. We shall then have the whole country from which to reap income, instead of the half as now, and the reduced scale spread over [illegible] the surface will not need to be enlarged.

Detachments of [illegible] have been sent [illegible] Richmond to the battlefields in the [illegible]. Several hundred skeletons were put under the [illegible] upon the battle grounds of Gaines' Mill and Cold Harbor, and other battle fields are being attended to in turn.

THE WORLD RENOWNED
SINGER SEWING MACHINES!

MANUFACTORY

[illegible] 458 Broadway, New York.

Motto: "The Singer Sewing Machines are the only Machines that can Sew all kinds of Fabric and with all kinds of Thread."

Singer's Letter A Family Machine is the best and cheapest Machine in the world for Family Sewing. There is no doubt as to the value of our Machines for manufacturing purposes, but it is only of late that the public began to learn that the essential elements of a Machine best adapted to the heaviest work, would also be the elements to be embodied in a Family Machine.

We would ask for our Letter A Machine the attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want Machines for Light Manufacturing Purposes. They embody the principles of the Manufacturing Machines making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for FAMILY SEWING and light Manufacturing purposes as our Manufacturing Machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES are valuable in proportion to the number of things they can do well. See what ours can do before making a purchase.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their sizes, prices, working capacities, and the best method of purchasing, can obtain it by sending for a copy of the SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY'S ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLET, which is entirely devoted to the subject. IT WILL BE SENT GRATIS.

GENERAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATTENDED this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus. CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED
In One Minute.

NEW YORK, September 2, 1864.

F. TILLMAN, Esq., 218 Battery street,
Between Commercial and Clay, San Francisco.

DEAR SIR: WE NOTICE AN ADvertisement in your daily papers regarding the "security" of the "Lillie" lock. We are aware that you well understand this lock, and of course, will not allow yourself to be annoyed by such representations. We have just sent for one of our men at the factory, and he, in our presence, opened one of Lillie's best safe locks, after it had been locked and the combination turned on,

By One Blow of the Hammer

Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the [illegible] bolt inside.

The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this lock that your friends may not be deceived by false representations, etc.

GLOUCESTER, March 26, 1864.

Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND,

Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr. Lillie, I was induced to purchase of him one of his

So Called "Fire Proof Safes"

On the 15th of February last a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we visited McKenzie & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make) and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the cloth business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire faring however no better than ours.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,

(Signed) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of [illegible] that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the [illegible] hospitals of Europe, among these those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of [illegible] are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High [illegible], Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Mary's, Camb Place, Pad; Lock, Harrow road; St. Luke's, Old street; University, Gower [illegible]; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary, Charing Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel road, Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DOCTOR GIBBON has also visited Doctors Acton of London, Parker of Birmingham, England, and Ricord of Paris, who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.

DOCTOR GIBBON has obtained from these their new mode of treatment which cannot be surpassed.

DOCTOR GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with new facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, [illegible] ted and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cured and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his [illegible] study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are friends to the afflicted, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use. For Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Preventive against Diseases and Pregnancy, sent by mail. Price $5. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney St., near Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 252.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry. It will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for, as sadly rising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Doctor Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Doctor Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.
